

Shelters and Shelter Building

Reconstructed Prehistoric Shelter

© Copyright Oliver Dixon and licensed for reuse under this Creative Commons Licence.

Since the beginning of time humans have built shelters to live in. They made them in different shapes and sizes.

The first humans built their shelters out of animal skins, grass and branches - anything they could find.

Even a large house like Sewerby Hall is just a very big shelter. It is made of wood, stone and bricks.

Shelter Building

How can you use the materials in your bag to build a shelter or den?

Use the string to create a framework for your shelter and then drape the space blanket, or lining paper over as the roof. You can attach it to the string with the pegs.

EAST RIDING
MUSEUMS

www.eastridingmuseums.co.uk

EAST RIDING
OF YORKSHIRE COUNCIL

